The longer students read, the more they achieve. It's that simple. I want my students to become lifelong readers. In order to make my dream a reality, we need books. Lots and lots of books. My kids are aching to snatch the next book in their favorite series. They are begging for high interest nonfiction. They want magazines, manga, picture books, and how-to guides. They are very demanding! We want our classroom library to become like their candy store. That's where we need your help. A thriving classroom library not only has all the latest titles and a mix of genres, it also has a range of reading levels so all students can access it. With your help, we can continue our path toward becoming lifelong readers.

To set up the library in my class, I am requesting

- Reading book baskets
- Bookshelves
- A list of the following titles: _____ (Need help choosing titles? E-mail witter.maddie@gmail.com and we will share some ideas)
